Miss Bessie Brown is attending the Derby Academy, Hingham.
Mr. Wm. Crane, the actor, has purchased the yacht "Enigma."
Misses Sarah Colt and Minnie Cudde have returned from a trip to New York.
Miss Lizzie C. Small has received the situation of teacher in a school in Hull.
Misses Christine Trommer and Carrie Stoddard have been admitted to Wellesley College.
Miss Lilla Collier has obtained a position in one of the primary schools of East Weymouth.

The late Otis Norcross boarded for some years at Kimball's and was a familiar figure in our streets.
One of our summer visitors has discovered that Kimball's a rock which is a perfect representation of the head of Daniel Webster in a recumbent position.
The Nantasket News asks who will be the Oliver to ask for side-walks on the Jerusalem Road. We refer the editor to back numbers of the COHASSET.

The rain Monday and Tuesday came too soon for some of our people. Many springs which have been considered un-failing gave out last week.
Mr. Hobart Tower will move from his house on Beach street to the house of his father on the plain. Before occupying he will make several improvements.
We have to apologize if some of the items in this issue appear somewhat old. The mass of our notes last week failed to get to the office in time for publication.

The Cove was pretty well filled with yachts, during the storm of Monday and Tuesday, which had left their moorings outside for the more secure anchorage within.
The Ellis Family gave of their pleasant entertainments at the Town Hall, Thursday evening, in aid of the Public Library. A large audience was brought together, and the Library netted $20.00.

We have received from B. B. Russell, 57 Cornhill, Boston, a map of Massachusetts, colored to show the Congressional districts, as adopted by the last legislature. The census of Massachusetts for 1880 is also given.

The return of Mr. E. C. McClintock's family from western Pennsylvania, where they have been spending the summer, has been delayed by an accident which at one time promised fatal results. The youngest child fell upon an open knife, sticking the blade into its breast and causing a very serious wound. It gives us pleasure to state that all immediate danger has passed.

Arrivals at Black Rock: Wm. C. Heilbron, A. H. Bond, J. M. C. E. N. Lord, Mich. Dyer, Jr. and wife, G. E. Hibbard and wife, G. H. Heilbron, J. H. M. Asmus, Allen Sturgis, Reuben Ring, Edw. Prescott, Boston; Peter W. Corbett, Jamaica Plain; Chas. H. Wood, Manie E. Ward, Brookline; Mrs. Clark, Baltimore; T. C. Clement, Roxbury, Vt.; Chas. Lippincott, Philadelphia; J. L. Wilbur, Taunton; John Baldwin, Anna J. Baldwin, W. C. Dodge, M. B. Dodge, Everett; Clifford Walker, Nantasket.

With the illumination the backbone of the sea at the beach was broken. The Nantasket closed on Tuesday and the force at the Cafe has been reduced one half. Mr. Walter Emerson, the popular comedian, was presented with a valuable cane by the ladies of the Nantasket and the Rockland. The Nantasket was opened again Thursday to entertain a party of 200. The Pemberton will remain open through September.

Mr. Albert J. Pratt of Jacksonville, Ill., who is well known to many in Cohasset, received a somewhat serious injury lately. His foot slipped when stepping on the platform of a railway car and the wheel passed over it severing three or four of the toes. It was feared at one time that it would be necessary to resort to amputation of the foot, but this has been found unnecessary. Mr. Pratt has the sympathy of many Cohasset friends.

ARRIVALS.
Arrived 1st, schooner Hattie Godfrey, New York, with Franklin coal for Tower Bros. & Co.; 2nd, Katie Hall, Capt. Jos. S. Enos, 6 bbls. mackerel; Morning Star, Capt. Manuel Antoine 300 bbls. 1st, Fannie L. Nye, Capt. Cobb, 200 bbls. 1st, 1st, schooners Charlotte, Capt. Valine, 145 barrels of mackerel; Wide Awake, Capt. Manuel S. Schools opened on Monday with 9 scholars at the King St. school, 25 at the Beechwoods Grammar, 31 at the Beechwoods Primary, 15 at the Jerusalem, 20 at the North Grammar, 25 at the North Primary, 48 at the Harbor, 22 at the South Grammar, 20 at the South Primary, 43 at the Central Grammar, 42 at the Central Primary and 63 at the High School. It will be seen that the Centre and Harbor schools are very much crowded, and there is need of an intermediate grade to relieve these districts.

The fruits of the petition circulated about town some time ago requesting the selectmen to enforce the liquor law were seen last week when officer Wentworth served summons on Joseph Smith and Patrick Mulcahey, to appear at Quincy, Friday the 8th to answer a complaint of violation of the liquor law. An attempt was made to serve a warrant on one Murphy, who keeps the bar for sale at the cove, but he discreetly got out of the way on the approach of the officer and has remained in seclusion ever since. At Quincy Smith and Mulcahey were each fined $50 and cost, and appealed.

The Republicans of Cohasset met in Caucus at Bates' Hall Monday evening. Owing to the severe storm the attendance was quite small. The meeting was organized with the choice of J. Q. A. Lohrop as chairman and E. P. Collier as secretary. Delegates were elected to the various conventions as follows: State, Edw. E. Elms and L. T. Cushing; congressional, J. Foster Doane and Philander Bates; councillor, Morgan B. Stetson and J. Q. A. Lohrop; county, Caleb Lohrop and Newcomb B. Tower; senatorial, Geo. W. Censens, Lotario, Warren Bates, 2d, and Chas. H. Willard. Town Committee for the year ensuing, J. Q. A. Lohrop, Philander Bates and E. P. Collier. The delegates to the state convention were unopposed, although it is believed that neither Crough or Bishop are their first choice.

In a recent issue of Harper's Weekly in an article on Nantasket Beach we find the following allusion to Jerusalem Road which may be of interest to our readers.
"Though to the great throngs who flock to Nantasket, the two great hotels at either end of the beach, with their attractions and the beach itself, are the life of Nantasket, there is much more to be seen and enjoyed. At the point of the hotel Nantasket are numerous barges to take summer arrivals by the boats to the various points along the shore, and hotel carriages are always ready at short notice for parties who wish to drive about the region. Along the Jerusalem Road, the famous drive, there is much charming drive of like distance it would be difficult to find. The road winding along the shore, is a line of elegant summer cottages, some of them of stone, and many presenting ambitious architectural effects. The dwellers along this famous road, and the cottagers generally, have little in common with the throng of excursionists who crowd the hotel restaurants, and ceaselessly pace up and down the hotel piazzas. They and their children, they and their dogs, they and they enjoy them in their own exclusive way, and the company of their own domesticity. They are the aristocracy of the place."

SCITUATE.
Corrected time table in another column.
Since the storm rockweed is being carted from the beaches.
Scituate contains 615 dwellings, 312 houses, 201 cows, 28 sheep.
The Weymouth Advance is reported to have been suspended.
The post holes for the new library building were begun Saturday.
Miss Amy Hudson of New York, is stopping with Miss Fannie Lunt.
Arrived Monday, schooner "Nauticus," with merchandise for Wm. P. Allen.
Mr. W. S. Sherman had a door broken up by the surf during the recent storm.
Mr. Frank Bacon of Somerville, has been stopping at Mr. G. W. Brown's the past week.
Mr. Henry Jenkins, engineer on the Nantasket Beach Railroad is at home on a week's vacation.
The barges "Sea Breeze" and "Parapa" took parties to the illumination at Nantasket, the 4th inst.
Charles Ellms of Scituate is attending the Derby Academy, Hingham, which commenced Aug. 31.
Mr. Elijah Clapp of Greenbush is indeed sadly afflicted, his wife and three sons are very sick with diphtheria.
The body of Mrs. Helen M. Rockwell of Providence, R. I., was brought here for interment Wednesday.
The long looked for rain came on Saturday, and did not stop, although at spells it rained so hard as to wash in places.
Steamer "Empire State," was off Scituate Saturday. Capt. G. W. Cushing, pilot, her there. They found fish quite plenty.
Mrs. Chas. Chubbuck, Mrs. N. Seaver, Miss Sarah Peirce, and probably others, will attend the Uranian conference at Saratoga next week.
The benches were visited Tuesday by quite a number of people, to see the surf come in, although the breakwater received the most attention.
A railroad to connect Plymouth with the Cape is being agitated in that town. While Middleboro people are anxious to have it connected with the Cape, the town of Plymouth is not so anxious.
A party of seventeen from Boston, stopping at Mr. James Hughes, made a visit to the Old Oaken Bucket Well and other points of interest in the "Lady B" on Sunday last.
Mrs. E. S. Manson who, with her three children, we announced last week would sail for Liverpool, received a telegram from her husband not to come until she heard from him again.
A novel way to protect blacking on one's shoes of a wet morning was illustrated on Wednesday morning by Mrs. Snow, when she, being out for a walk, had her shoes in the South Shore Herald.
The yacht "Ionian," of Boston, with Messrs. G. S. Wasson and J. C. A. Lohrop, and several trips to our harbor lately. The parties have been making sketches of the beach, harbor, and other views.
Daniel Broughton who was engaged as lamp-lighter by the Yacht Society resigned after two days' experience and his position was accepted by Mr. Reuben Andrews who will do the right thing and give us "more light."
We have received from Henry H. Faxon, Esq., the standing of members of the Legislature of 1882, on the Temperance question. We are glad to note that the Yacht Society resigned after two days' experience and his position was accepted by Mr. Reuben Andrews who will do the right thing and give us "more light."

At present stopping in Milwaukee, Wis., and likes the place and people very much. Like other sensible young men in leaving Scituate, he has ordered the Herald to be sent to him.
A case has recently been decided by the supreme court that the ringing of a factory bell in Plymouth before 6.30 a. m. was a nuisance, and the court ruled it to be stopped. If such is the case isn't this yelling and hollering on our streets, Sunday evenings, a much greater nuisance? and isn't there more reason why it should be stopped?
A northeast storm struck us Monday morning and lasted until Tuesday noon when it commenced to clear away and in the afternoon the bright sun appeared. Not much damage was done, that we have heard of, but the bow spirit was taken from the "Sea Foam," the "Comet" broke her mooring rope, and one or two doors were somewhat injured.
The Rockland Standard with its last number closed its twenty-ninth year. A new departure will be made in its next issue, consisting in enlarging the paper one column per page and a new departure for North Abington, to be called the North Abington Public, under the editorial charge of Rev. Jesse H. Jones and Mr. Linwood S. Pratt. We wish this new enterprise success.

From the Daily Sun, St. John, N.B. we get the following.
"Mr. D. L. Chubbuck, the singing Evangelist, conducted the services at Brussels Street Baptist church Sunday afternoon and evening. In singing Mr. C. was accompanied by the organ, instead of the large choir as in the morning he preached a stirring sermon, and the first verse of the 46th chapter of St. Paul's Gospel. Watch and pray! In the afternoon Mr. Chubbuck spoke to a crowded house in Little Hall, Portland, and in the evening Brussels Street church was so crowded that many had to go away, but to obtain even standing room."
Master Harry Smith thinking no doubt the Sunday School a pleasant place for a little fellow to stay, started his school at the late to be sure, and on the way invited little Gracie Damon to go to, the invitation being accepted off they started very happy for it was a lovely day, and it happened that Miss Gracie was hardly prepared to go, but this did not make any difference to the school, as she was not there all right and passed in, but her reception was not what had been anticipated for Master Harry's sister at once took them out and sent them home, and it is to be regretted that Miss Gracie's trip ended in tears.

The appropriations for Plymouth Harbor in the aggregate four years have been $52,500. The Old Colony Memorial this speaks of L. The use made of this generous sum was in preservation of the beach, the natural breakwater of the town, and for dredging the channels of the vessels drawing sixteen feet of water to reach our wharves. The greatest benefit, however, and that which is most appreciated, is that a steamship landing can be effected at all times of tide. In consequence, 50,000 extra visitors have been in our harbor this season, giving a direct income from this source to our hotels, restaurants and stores, and a valuable and other material advantages which have directly resulted from these harbor improvements.

What has been done for Plymouth will be done for Scituate when her improvements are completed, or nearer done.
Fourth Cliff Shooting Affair.
On Saturday last a sad accident occurred in a shanty near the Fourth Cliff House. The facts in the case are these: A party of six young men from Rockland arrived on a boat, and took possession of the shanty belonging to Wm. O. Merritt, Jr. At an early hour the next morning they made a gunning trip and returned about 11 o'clock; soon after returning they were joined by a third party, stood holding his gun in his left hand and a basin of birds in his right, by an accidental hit of the basin fell, striking the hammer of Whitman's gun causing it to discharge, the party being in the shanty, and the bullet striking the forehead of one of the party, and about 5 ounces of brains. His left thumb, which was over the barrel of the gun, was also blown off. Medical assistance was at once summoned, but nothing could be done for him. He lived until 11.15 Monday morning, but in an unconscious state. He was 35 years old, and leaves a wife to mourn his loss. No blame can be attached to anyone, but this should be a warning to all, especially our young men and boys, that a good deal of care should be taken in handling firearms.

of fruit from July till the time of frost. One of the best places was George Moore's swamp but we never enjoyed going there much unless it was a very pleasant day as the old people used to tell us about the Indian woman that went there to gather berries and never returned. It was said she sank in the quagmire and the only thing that was found belonging to her was her hat floating on the bog. A fine story to tell the children. I would not have you think we were afraid of her ghost, but we were afraid of being lost in the woods, and any one having been there in a foggy day will say that there was a chance of getting lost.
It was on the east end of this swamp that I first saw the cranberry under cultivation; before that we had always depended on the wild cranberry that grew in the swamps and meadows for our supply; and at that time no well regulated family in this place ever passed Thanksgiving without the cranberry being served up in some form or other for dinner or tea.
Here also was the mill built by a gentleman of the colored variety, sometimes called Black Hill, but we children always called it him by the name of Mr. Williams. The pond was what would be called an artificial pond as it was his intention to fill it by carrying water from the brook in buckets. When questioned as to his method of filling his mill pond, he answered them by saying the water would go up rather slow but would come down with a rush. I believe his mill pond, and ideas of making a fortune in the mill business went down the same way, as the next I saw of him the boat building business occupied his attention. I have seen as many as four on the stocks at one time, and I have seen where of buildings erected, which alone is sufficient evidence of the rapid growth of this beach as a summer resort. Among many others who have built here are: F. M. Chapman and C. H. Bradbury, actors, New York; Geo. C. Kimball, G. T. Umer, Thomas Cushing, Boston.
Among the more prominent persons who have summered here are the following named: Dr. J. C. Sharpe, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Dr. Codman, Hon. Oliver Ames, Fred M. Ames, Chas. Francis Adams, Jr., who with others constitute the wellknown Glades Club. Hon. Byron Weston, Judge Nelson, Lieut. Jaker, U. S. Navy, Dr. J. G. Graves, Dr. J. Ely W. J. McPherson, and Henry Wood.
It is but a comparatively short time since this beach became a resort for tourists, and the rapid growth which has been made (especially during the last four years) is simply surprising. The time is not far distant when an isolated place will be a second Nantasket.

NORTH SCITUATE.
Mr. Waldo Turner and wife spent the Sabbath with Chas. E. Bailey, Esq.
The noon train arrives at this station at 12.16 instead of 12.44 as formerly.
A new supply of calomel coal has been received at the No. Scituate coal yard.
Mr. G. H. French who has been taking a trip in Europe, has rented a house at the beach and will occupy it for a short time.
Mr. D. J. Bates lost a valuable horse and a bag of coal. A doctor was summoned from Quincy, but he arrived too late to save the animal.
Mr. Wm. Smith of Rockland is building a summer residence near Mr. Wm. Newcomb's. He has also a well in process of construction.
As Mr. Everett Wilder was engaged in carting shoes for G. W. Bailey Wednesday morning his horse took fright and started to run breaking the harness but doing no other injury. Also, Mr. Carter's horse was frightened by the freight train and succeeded in clearing himself from all but the reins, to which the driver clung, some of the reins having stopped on the horse and Mr. Carter alighted without any serious injury.

S. S. CONCERN.
"Mission" was the subject of the Sabbath School concert, under the direction of Rev. W. A. Spiny at the Baptist Church, Sunday evening. The concert was one of the finest as well as most instructive ever held in Scituate. It was a happy history of the growth and progress of missions was given, together with short biographies of eminent persons engaged in the work. Readings, illustrative of the work, were rendered by Misses Elmira Litchfield, Maria F. Brown, Blanche Pratt, Lottie Mott and Josie M. Litchfield. A short address by Chas. E. Bailey, singing by the choir and benediction by the pastor closed the exercises. The attendance was very large.

GREENBUSH.
This quiet little hamlet was not named thus from any particular characteristic of the inhabitants but from the green bushes which grow in the Green Holy place or shrub that is found in the surrounding pastures. There is not another place in the state where it grows more abundant than here. Its foliage is very thick and the leaf of a dark shade of green with thorns on the edges. It withstands the snows and frosts of winter, remaining all of the year.
A short distance west of the village and on the road leading by the place of the Old Oaken Bucket are some large evergreens which were formerly noted for the number of berries that grew in them and the various kinds served to supply us with that article with previous years, but the deficiency caused thereby is more than made up by the increase in the number of New England people. The past season has in every respect been the busiest yet.

Mitchell House, the leading hotel here, has been filled all summer to such an extent that the proprietor found it necessary to secure the house formerly occupied by James Hillard of Boston, where a few of the guests "roomed". A new feature at this popular hotel during the summer was dancing, when each week a grand hop took place in which the boarders as well as a few invited guests participated with great pleasure. Concerts given once a week by the North Scituate band was also a feature. The hotel will remain open until the first of October next. The Florence House, has enjoyed a prosperous season. This house was opened under its present management two years ago, and under the supervision of Mr. George Davenport it has reached a high degree of excellence, and now ranks among the first in the State. The Sea View House, formerly run by Capt. Joshua L. Higgins, has changed hands and now prospers under the able management of Mr. Fred Umer. The Merritt House, Cliff and Webb Cottage, and the Centennial House have each done a good season's work.
Having briefly reviewed the season's business at the different hotels, let us turn our attention to another direction. There has been during the past season a great increase in the number of buildings erected, which alone is sufficient evidence of the rapid growth of this beach as a summer resort. Among many others who have built here are: F. M. Chapman and C. H. Bradbury, actors, New York; Geo. C. Kimball, G. T. Umer, Thomas Cushing, Boston.
Among the more prominent persons who have summered here are the following named: Dr. J. C. Sharpe, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Dr. Codman, Hon. Oliver Ames, Fred M. Ames, Chas. North Scituate Beach.
THE HOTELS—DISTINGUISHED VISITORS, ETC.
The bustle and activity, which for the past ten weeks has been so characteristic of this place, has nearly ceased; the summer has gone and with it a word of the regular boarders at the different houses.
In reviewing the season's work one notices a slight falling off in the number of Western people as compared with previous years, but the deficiency caused thereby is more than made up by the increase in the number of New England people. The past season has in every respect been the busiest yet.

Mitchell House, the leading hotel here, has been filled all summer to such an extent that the proprietor found it necessary to secure the house formerly occupied by James Hillard of Boston, where a few of the guests "roomed". A new feature at this popular hotel during the summer was dancing, when each week a grand hop took place in which the boarders as well as a few invited guests participated with great pleasure. Concerts given once a week by the North Scituate band was also a feature. The hotel will remain open until the first of October next. The Florence House, has enjoyed a prosperous season. This house was opened under its present management two years ago, and under the supervision of Mr. George Davenport it has reached a high degree of excellence, and now ranks among the first in the State. The Sea View House, formerly run by Capt. Joshua L. Higgins, has changed hands and now prospers under the able management of Mr. Fred Umer. The Merritt House, Cliff and Webb Cottage, and the Centennial House have each done a good season's work.
Having briefly reviewed the season's business at the different hotels, let us turn our attention to another direction. There has been during the past season a great increase in the number of buildings erected, which alone is sufficient evidence of the rapid growth of this beach as a summer resort. Among many others who have built here are: F. M. Chapman and C. H. Bradbury, actors, New York; Geo. C. Kimball, G. T. Umer, Thomas Cushing, Boston.
Among the more prominent persons who have summered here are the following named: Dr. J. C. Sharpe, Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Dr. Codman, Hon. Oliver Ames, Fred M. Ames, Chas. Francis Adams, Jr., who with others constitute the wellknown Glades Club. Hon. Byron Weston, Judge Nelson, Lieut. Jaker, U. S. Navy, Dr. J. G. Graves, Dr. J. Ely W. J. McPherson, and Henry Wood.

of fruit from July till the time of frost. One of the best places was George Moore's swamp but we never enjoyed going there much unless it was a very pleasant day as the old people used to tell us about the Indian woman that went there to gather berries and never returned. It was said she sank in the quagmire and the only thing that was found belonging to her was her hat floating on the bog. A fine story to tell the children. I would not have you think we were afraid of her ghost, but we were afraid of being lost in the woods, and any one having been there in a foggy day will say that there was a chance of getting lost.
It was on the east end of this swamp that I first saw the cranberry under cultivation; before that we had always depended on the wild cranberry that grew in the swamps and meadows for our supply; and at that time no well regulated family in this place ever passed Thanksgiving without the cranberry being served up in some form or other for dinner or tea.
Here also was the mill built by a gentleman of the colored variety, sometimes called Black Hill, but we children always called it him by the name of Mr. Williams. The pond was what would be called an artificial pond as it was his intention to fill it by carrying water from the brook in buckets. When questioned as to his method of filling his mill pond, he answered them by saying the water would go up rather slow but would come down with a rush. I believe his mill pond, and ideas of making a fortune in the mill business went down the same way, as the next I saw of him the boat building business occupied his attention. I have seen as many as four on the stocks at one time, and I have seen where of buildings erected, which alone is sufficient evidence of the rapid growth of this beach as a summer resort. Among many others who have built here are: F. M. Chapman and C. H. Bradbury, actors, New York; Geo. C. Kimball, G. T. Umer, Thomas Cushing, Boston.

Mr. Waldo Turner and wife spent the Sabbath with Chas. E. Bailey, Esq.
The noon train arrives at this station at 12.16 instead of 12.44 as formerly.
A new supply of calomel coal has been received at the No. Scituate coal yard.
Mr. G. H. French who has been taking a trip in Europe, has rented a house at the beach and will occupy it for a short time.
Mr. D. J. Bates lost a valuable horse and a bag of coal. A doctor was summoned from Quincy, but he arrived too late to save the animal.
Mr. Wm. Smith of Rockland is building a summer residence near Mr. Wm. Newcomb's. He has also a well in process of construction.
As Mr. Everett Wilder was engaged in carting shoes for G. W. Bailey Wednesday morning his horse took fright and started to run breaking the harness but doing no other injury. Also, Mr. Carter's horse was frightened by the freight train and succeeded in clearing himself from all but the reins, to which the driver clung, some of the reins having stopped on the horse and Mr. Carter alighted without any serious injury.

S. S. CONCERN.
"Mission" was the subject of the Sabbath School concert, under the direction of Rev. W. A. Spiny at the Baptist Church, Sunday evening. The concert was one of the finest as well as most instructive ever held in Scituate. It was a happy history of the growth and progress of missions was given, together with short biographies of eminent persons engaged in the work. Readings, illustrative of the work, were rendered by Misses Elmira Litchfield, Maria F. Brown, Blanche Pratt, Lottie Mott and Josie M. Litchfield. A short address by Chas. E. Bailey, singing by the choir and benediction by the pastor closed the exercises. The attendance was very large.

GREENBUSH.
This quiet little hamlet was not named thus from any particular characteristic of the inhabitants but from the green bushes which grow in the Green Holy place or shrub that is found in the surrounding pastures. There is not another place in the state where it grows more abundant than here. Its foliage is very thick and the leaf of a dark shade of green with thorns on the edges. It withstands the snows and frosts of winter, remaining all of the year.
A short distance west of the village and on the road leading by the place of the Old Oaken Bucket are some large evergreens which were formerly noted for the number of berries that grew in them and the various kinds served to supply us with that article

SOUTH SCITUATE.

Mr. Eleazer Hatch is visiting friends at Saco, Me.

Mr. J. T. Foster of Medford is paying a short visit to his sister, Mrs. Talbot and others of his relatives.

Arthur I. Nash has started fully equipped for a hunting expedition in the wilds of Maine which is much better than stopping around here for a handful of peeps.

Fred M. Curtis has started on his vacation in a sensible way by hitching up his team and taking a ride to Little Compton, R. I. Wonder what he has gone away down there for?

At 7-30 a. m. Saturday Sept. 9 Danl R. Ewell was at his house and at 8-30 a. m. he was at J. C. Nash's store spending the money which he had just received for saving a cord of wood since leaving his home at 7-30.

The Republicans of South Scituate met in caucus, E. T. Fogg, chairman; J. H. Pinkham secretary; and those delegates as follows to the several conventions: State, E. T. Fogg, Alpheus Thomas, Senatorial, Henry A. Turner, David Torrey, Chas. H. Wilder, James H. Pinkham, County, Willard Torrey, Saml Turner, Alpheus Thomas, C. A. Litchfield, Councilor, E. T. Fogg, Alpheus Damon; Congressional, David Torrey, H. N. Gardner. The question was raised as to the delegates to the state convention pledging themselves but the meeting preferred to have them go unpledged. An informal vote was taken to get at the sentiment of the meeting, and resulting in a vote of five to one in favor of R. R. Bishop for Governor.

Lincoln G. Demond, aged 16 years, son of Rev. Mr. Demond of East Boston, desires great praise for his brave act in rescuing two children from drowning.

While walking down the road toward Union Bridge with Bert Litchfield they heard cries of distress and both started to render assistance. Young Demond arrived first and saw two daughters of James Green struggling in the river, without a moment's hesitation he jumped over the rail of the bridge and with great difficulty rescued both the children, his efforts were greatly rewarded by the struggles of the children, but by great exertion on his part he succeeded in landing them safely. Rev. Mr. Demond has lost one son by drowning while trying to rescue a young lady.

The funeral of Mr. William Turner whose death was recorded in our last issue, took place from his late residence on the afternoon of Sept. 6th. Undertaker Sparrell took entire charge of the ceremonies. Rev. W. H. Fish officiated. Mr. Turner was not expected to live from one day to another at the time of his daughter's death the 26th of December last, and has been living a lingering death ever since, having finally gradually given way. Mr. Turner was a man by trade, and well known far and near when in health, as a good natured man and kind neighbor, was quite a musician and thus became familiarly known. There are few men in our village who would be missed more than he, although his long illness has accustomed many to his absence from his accustomed place.

WEST SCITUATE.

Cashman's teams have been transporting fire barrels through the street this week.

We were misinformed when we stated that services were to be resumed at the Universalist church on the first Sunday in September. The termination of the vacation is uncertain.

Mr. David Bailey, one of our oldest townsmen, has not been able to do much work for quite a long time but has been able to get about among his neighbors. He is now confined to his room and seems very feeble.

A. L. Farrer is about to change his residence. We understand that he has leased Wm. Delano's place for four years. Mr. Farrer proposes to raise, as well as to continue collecting foot and egg for market.

Grand rush from this place to Naushon, on the fourth last, Radd, Browner and Wright had all that they could carry besides numerous private carriages all well filled. The people who took this occasion to make their annual excursion to the beach, Turner of Hingham furnished barges for their accommodation. Every one voted the illumination and display of fireworks, charming.

Fowl raising is small business, some say. Well, look at this. Two of our neighbors, last spring raised about thirty early chickens each and in the month of June each took about ninety dollars cash, for them. Now compare 20 chickens, 3 months old, $90. One cow, three years old average $30 or less. Which costs the most? Which is the smaller business? Take your choice, only don't flood the chicken market next spring.

Accord Pond is to be opened for fishing three days of the week, from Oct. 1st, to Dec. 1st. This pond was stocked by the State Authorities, three or four years ago, and this will be the first time that the people have had to fish there.

It is anticipated that a large fleet of dories will be launched and manned about Oct. 25th. Apparently some think that Scituate Harbor will be superseded, and that the fish markets will be transferred to West Scituate.

CHURCH HILL.

Nice little showers, Monday, of last week.

The barge "Grace Greenwood" took a party to Silver Lake Thursday, to attend the Camp meeting being held there.

Don't forget the temperance lecture in the Baptist Church, North Hanover, Monday evening, E. A. Morse of Canton is the lecturer.

What a good shower we had Saturday, it laid the dust good. No doubt we shall have enough this week for they have a cattle show in Marshfield.

Horace furnished barges for the Hanover party to attend the Camp meeting at Silver Lake Thursday. A number of private carriages accompanied them.

Between 60 and 70 of the Temple of Honor of West Scituate went to Nantasket Monday, Sept. 4. They stopped at the Centre House where they partook of a good fish dinner.

Three yoke of oxen and several men were at work drawing stone Thursday for the sidewalk in front of the Methodist Church. We are glad there is such an interest taken to make improvements around the church.

The Hanover Academy commenced Monday, Sept. 11. Mr. Frank Brett of Hingham has taken Mr. Knight's place as teacher. Mr. Knight having accepted a position as book keeper in Phillips & Co.'s tack factory. Mr. Knight has taught school for twenty years steady and been very successful as a teacher.

DIED.

In Providence, R. I., Sept. 9, Mrs. Helen M. Rockwell in the 62nd year of her age.
